

Due to coincidence

As luck would have it, in the fall of 2023 we were able to experience a highly impressive journey through Uganda - one of the poorest countries in Africa - with visits to the most remote regions and moving personal encounters. The exchange with those responsible at the Kigezi Community School, located in the southwestern highlands of Uganda, turned out to be more than touching. After the comprehensive insight into the precarious conditions under which enormous commitment is being made to give the (orphaned) children, despite all adversities, a good start into their demanding future, there was nothing for my travel companion I still have the slightest hesitation in offering sustainable, long-term help to the best of our ability.

So we quickly decided, in addition to active help on site, to set up a partner organization here in Switzerland, which will help address the upcoming needs in a simple and effective manner and also provide financial support. We rely on the greatest possible transparency and guarantee that all donations are used in full where they have an appropriate impact.

To ensure flawless implementation, the board members of the AMAZIMA association, which was newly founded on February 1, 2024, are in close contact with those responsible on site. After one of the two founding members, Micha Bärtschi, stayed in Uganda for three months before the association was founded to support the starting phase of the project, I will now also go to the location in the summer of 2024 to get involved to support the purpose of the association.

We give our heartfelt project our best possible time, financial resources and on-site commitment. However, in order for us to achieve more than the famous drop in the ocean, we depend on the long-term, continuous support of the project from benevolent patrons.

We would like to encourage you to support our unselfish commitment - in whatever form. We will take the liberty of informing you in more detail after the association is founded. If you no longer wish to receive further information, please let us know by sending an email to the email address listed below.

Thank you very much

Micha Bärtschi, Jürg König
